

AMERICANS HOLD GAINS OF TERRIFIC DRIVE OF YESTERDAY; GRADUATE OF LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL WOUNDED; BOLSHIEVSKI FAILS

LIEUTENANT JOHN E. WRIGHT, MEMBER OF CLASS OF 1912, SHOT BY BOCHES ON JULY 15

A telegram from the War Department received yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. David R. Wright of near Pitts-town, Bolshie township, contained the news that their son, Lieutenant John E. Wright, of the Third Mortar Battalion, was severely wounded in action on July 15. The parents dispatched a cablegram today to the commanding officer of the battery in an effort to learn the extent of the wounds.

Lieutenant Wright is a graduate of the Connellsville high school and the first of the alumni reported to have fallen in battle. He completed the course of the local school in 1912, having previously taken three years in the Mount Pleasant high school. Subsequently Lieutenant Wright entered the United States naval academy at Annapolis. That was in the summer of 1914. Last winter he, with about 50 others, passed a special examination and was commissioned a first lieutenant in the Regular Army. He spent a few weeks at an officers' training camp at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and in April was sent to France as a member of the Eighteenth Heavy Field Artillery. After reaching France he was assigned to the Third Trench Mortar Battalion and was serving with this command when wounded.

Lieutenant Wright is a brother of Homer C. Wright, formerly a ward principal in the Connellsville schools, who is also in the service. Another Fayette countyman, whose name appeared in the casualty list today was that of Edward M. Calmes of Point Marion, also reported as severely wounded.

GERMAN BORN, DR. BOETCKER URGES KAISER'S DEFEAT

Ordinance Department Speaker Glad He Came to America.

WORK SIX DAYS A WEEK

In His Call to Workmen Assembled About Steps at City Hall, Mayor Sugan Asks Men to Two Unions to Labor Six Days Each Day.

In an address from the city hall steps last night Dr. Boetcker, a representative of the Ordinance Department, urged the workmen to throw all their energies into winning the war and do their part at home by remaining on the work bench six days a week. The speaker was introduced by Mayor John Dugan, who in a short talk told the men if they belonged to one union and worked eight hours a day to join two unions and work 16 hours. "The boys over there," he said, "will work 24 hours, seven days a week if necessary."

The government speaker said the man at the work bench was doing his part for the soldier in the trench if he gave all that was in him. "How many of you men are worth fighting for?" he asked. "I don't know, but I hope you all are. When you go home, tonight look into the mirror and ask the man you see there. You will probably know the answer."

Dr. Boetcker said he was born just 50 miles southeast of London, but that it wasn't his fault. He told how he was held in the peasant class in Germany because his father was poor. "An American woman gave me money and advised me to go to America. I'm glad I came," he said. "Kee people here believe America is the greatest country in the world. We who have lived on the other side know America is the greatest country in the world to live in, the best to fight for, because we have seen conditions both on that side and on this side."

Asked how many of the men in the audience worked in a shop or factory, nearly every hand went up. "Well, I want to ask you this," continued the speaker. "How many of you work for the company?" Again the hands went up. "Now here is what I want you to do. Stop working for the company. Make today the last you will ever work for the company, but when you go to work tomorrow morning, work with the company and work for yourself. Work for your family. If you have one, and if you don't have one work for the one you are going to have. When you get tired just think of what you are working for and you will work all the harder."

"What kind of hypocrisy is it," asked the speaker, "when we say 'Keep the Home Fires Burning' and then don't keep the factory fires burning? Keep the factory fires burning men. That is the surest way to bring the boys home."

"Keep the Home Fires Burning" and "America" were sung by Mr. Jones, who accompanied Dr. Boetcker. The audience joined in the chorus of both numbers.

Observer 79th Anniversary.

Dr. W. W. Osborn of Upper Middletown, is today celebrating his 78th birthday. Dr. Osborn moved to Upper Middletown from Mount Pleasant March 3, 1883. He is a member of the Fayette County Medical Society and was postmaster at Upper Middletown for approximately 16 years and established the money order and rural free delivery systems, both of which are at this time in operation.

MERCHANTS PREPARE FOR GREAT RUSH OF BARGAIN SEEKERS

Extra Help Engaged for Annual Events Tomorrow and Friday; Many Inducements in Courier.

Prospects are right for unprecedented sales at the annual bargain sales of the merchants of Connellsville tomorrow and Friday. All previous Bargain Days have been successful, and there is no reason to believe that this year will not be. The war certainly will not affect the buying because economy is the basic principle of the whole affair, and economy is being strongly encouraged.

The Courier today contains of 12 pages, crammed full of advertisements of special offers for Bargain Days. Recognizing that the Courier reaches every town and hamlet in Fayette county, and has a wide circulation in Westmoreland and Somerset counties as well, merchants have given it the largest volume of their advertising. It is safe to say that of the thousands who will come to Connellsville to shop on Thursday and Friday, almost all will be attracted by the announcements in the Courier.

Extra help has been engaged in many of the stores, where preparations are being made for the busiest days in their history. The plan of reducing standard merchandise to a low price for the two days has been followed, and buyers will get the very best goods at lower prices than possible in any other time of the year. The morning is the best time to shop according to the storekeepers. The crowds are not so great, the weather is cool and the clerks have time to give more attention to individual buyers.

The body of Fletcher was shipped to Hancock, W. Va., for interment this morning by Funeral Director Sims.

Mr. Mack's three daughters and Mrs. Van Wageningen, together with three children, who were also occupants of the car, escaped injury.

FRENCH SMASH DRIVES ON LINE IN REGION OF OULCHY AND MAINTAIN POSITIONS

Both French and Germans Busy During the Night in Minor Raids, but They do Not Materially Change the Situation; Casualty List Grows.

FRENCH AVIATOR'S FEAT MAY LEAD TO THE SAVING OF MANY A LIFE

PARIS, July 31.—American troops maintained their positions in the region of Seringes-et-Nesles which they carried after violent fighting, according to an official statement from the war office today.

The Germans made four attacks against the new French positions east of Oulchy-le-Chateau. They were repulsed and the French line was held intact.

The French and the Germans carried out raids at a number of other points on sectors east and west of the Marne salient but there was no change in the general situation at these points.

KILL IS OBJECT NOW.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The sole object of the Allies and the Germans in the Soissons-Rheims salient now is to kill as many men as possible, General March, chief of staff, said today. Whatever objective either side had at the beginning, the general said, has been submerged by developments in the fighting.

General March pointed out that the salient has been greatly flattened, thus virtually dissipating any hopes of the Allies bagging large numbers of the enemy. The German withdrawal since last Saturday, he added, had reduced the length of the line another 10 miles to 54 miles. The maximum German retreat in the center is 14 miles.

ARTILLERY ACTIVE.

LONDON, July 31.—The German artillery displayed activity last night in the region of Merris on the Flanders front, taken yesterday by the Australians, and in the Kemmel sector, the War Office announced today. It was also active on both sides of the Somme.

PUSH TWO MILES THROUGH BARRAGE.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE AISNE-MARNE FRONT, July 31.—Through a barrage as deadly as any the Germans have laid down in any sector for months, the American soldiers, comprising men from the Middle West and Eastern states, pushed their line forward a little more yesterday, and last night it formed the apex of the long Allied front.

Their progress was considerable, though less than two miles, but it is regarded as a brilliant operation in view of the determined counterthrust by the Germans.

PARACHUTES FROM PLANE.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Tuesday, July 30.—Captain Sarret, a French aviator, has carried out the first experiment on record of falling from a moving airplane with a parachute. Captain Sarret dropped 800 yards with an umbrella 12 yards in diameter and landed safely.

Sarret occupied and fell from the observation position but similar experiments for the plot will be undertaken soon.

The aviator crawled out of his seat when the plane was above smooth ground and hung by his hands with the parachute firmly attached to his body and lightly attached to the airplane. When he jumped the parachute opened perfectly and bore him gently to the ground where he landed unharmed.

This is the first time that an aviator has jumped from a machine with a parachute. Experiments in the past have been made with sand bags which were cut loose at varying heights.

Although Captain Sarret's trial was made at a height of 800 meters, it is declared there is no obstacle to jumping a greater distance since the parachute had an even better chance to open. When successful the employment of parachutes will save the lives of many aviators. Aviators will be able to leave their flaming machines and will not meet death as did Major Raoul Lafferty on May 18.

POSITIONS IMPROVED.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The line of our coasters attacks on the line of the front, after severe fighting, and improvement of the American positions were reported in General Pershing's communique for yesterday received today at the War Department.

ALLIED GAINS SMALL.

BUT SIGNIFICANT.

LONDON, Tuesday, July 30.—Although the Allied gains during the last 24 hours may seem small some of them have been exceedingly significant, telegraphs Reuters' correspondent at the American front in France. The chief feature of the recent fighting he says, is the French advance from Oulchy-le-Chateau which carried the village of Grand Rozoy and Cugny and swept the Germans off of the Butte de Chalmont. This hill was a center of enemy resistance along the front.

Head of Kobacker Firm Urges Elimination of Waste on Employees.

At a meeting of the management and employees of Kobacker's store held last evening in the store building for the five preceding preceding months were paid the employees after which A. J. Kobacker, the manager, addressed those in his employ, calling their attention to a number of important points.

While the employees have purchased Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps to the extent of 100 per cent Mr. Kobacker stated that that alone would not win the war. He said it was necessary to eliminate all waste, mentioning unnecessary telephone calls and tardiness. He asked the support of the more experienced in the work in training newcomers.

Strikes Must End.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Railway employees were told by Director General McAdoo in announcing details of the wage increase for more than 500,000 shop men that the nation expected new energy from the workers in return for pay increases and improvement in employment conditions and that strikes on other labor disturbances must be eliminated during the war.

LENINE-TROTSKY REGIME AT END OF ITS TETHER; GERMAN COMMANDER IN UKRAINE SHOT

LONDON, July 31.—Information at Stockholm, says the correspondent of the Times there, shows that the Bolshevik regime has come to the end of its tether and that the Russian masses—workmen and peasants—are about to rise in arms against Bolshevik tyranny.

Official representatives of the social revolutionary and social democratic parties in Russia have arrived in Stockholm, says the correspondent, and have issued a remarkable appeal to the Socialists of Europe. They call upon the Socialists to form an international commission representing all Socialist parties to visit Russia and ascertain by direct investigation whether the Russian Socialists are not right in declaring that the Bolsheviks have brought widespread evils on Russia.

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—Field Marshal von Eichhorn, the German commander in the Ukraine, and his adjutant were seriously wounded by a bomb in Kiev Tuesday, says an official announcement received here from Ukrainian capital.

The bomb was thrown at the men while they were driving to their headquarters from Casino. The field marshal's adjutant is named Captain von Dressler.

The bomb which wounded the field marshal and the adjutant was thrown from a cab which drove close to their carriage as they were approaching the field marshal's residence.

A later message from Kiev announces that Field Marshal von Eichhorn and Captain von Dressler died last night.

WANTS TO SUE THE COUNTY FOR SENDING HIM TO AN ASYLUM

Divilbliss Arrested in Johnstown After Taking French Leave of Somerset Institution.

JOHNSTOWN, July 31.—Taking French leave from Somerset county's institution for the insane, Rezin Divilbliss formerly of Uniontown, Fayette county, arrived in Johnstown Monday and began at once to seek legal assistance to aid him in bringing a heavy damage suit against Fayette county for having forced him to serve three years in the insane asylum at Dirmont, and over three years in the Somerset institution, Fayette county having no asylum. It was soon apparent that Rezin had left the institution too soon and the Johnstown police provided a free berth for him at the city hall.

Divilbliss for years was a well-known character in Fayette county. Having lost one leg, he hopped about on crutches, delivering religious addresses from the curb in different towns where they would permit it. Several years ago Court Crier Charles M. Fee and several others of Fayette county played an innocent joke on Divilbliss, holding a mock trial in a Uniontown justice of the peace's office with Divilbliss as prosecutor of the Fayette county court crier. Mr. Fee jokingly offered to compromise the case by paying $45,000. The sum was too much for Rezin—he refused and immediately became so unreasonable in his actions and talk that the real court was obliged to send him to Dirmont.

After three years Divilbliss was released, but a short term of liberty brought back the old confused spirit and again he was sent away. This time he was sent to Somerset county. Rezin says he has escaped from that institution twice.

When the escort arrived to take him to the place of execution, Nicholas attempted to rise from his chair but was not able. The priest and a soldier were obliged to help him get to his feet.

As he was unable to stand without support when the place of execution was reached he was propped against a post. He raised his hands and seemed to be trying to speak but the rifles spoke and he fell dead.

All the churches will participate in the fair, erecting booths from which various articles will be sold. The committee will provide at least seven or eight attractions. The following general committee is in charge of the preliminary arrangements:

WESTERN PENNA. CONVENTION OF FIREMEN IS OFF

Meet at Meyersdale Cancelled at the Instance of the Fuel Heads.

ALL PREPARATIONS MADE

Effort to Have Administration Permit the Annual Event in View of This Fact Fails; No Official Confirmation Reaches President DeBolt.

Word received by The Courier from Meyersdale today is that the annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's association, to have been held at that place the week of August 12-18, has been called off. The message says that a telegram was received at Meyersdale yesterday afternoon from Washington definitely cancelling the gathering. The convention has been called off on request of the United States Fuel Administration. W. E. DeBolt of this city, president of the association, had received no word of the final decision of the Fuel Administration up to noon today.

Last week the association received a letter from the United States Fuel Administration asking the convention be cancelled on account of war conditions. When the Fuel Administration request was received preparations for the convention were well underway in Meyersdale and much money had been spent by the firemen and merchants of that place preparing for the gala week.

In view of the fact that so much preparation had already been made for the convention, the firemen's association sent a committee of Congressman Bruce F. Sterling of Uniontown and Samuel A. Kendall of Meyersdale to Washington to intercede in behalf of the convention. The telegram received at Meyersdale last night indicates that the Fuel Administration refused to allow the convention to be held.

A petition signed by 500 mine workers of the Meyersdale region, who pledged themselves to keep up the output of coal, was taken to Washington by the committee. Fire Chief DeBolt was to be wired immediately the results of the interview but he had not received any word at 12 o'clock today.

It is also rumored in Meyersdale that the Meyersdale Fair and races, which are held annually in September, will be called off this year.

LET THIS CREAM CURE YOUR PIMPLES

For several weeks past A. A. Clarke has done a big business in selling Hokara, the skin healer that has won so many friends in Connelville.

It has been found to heal not only all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes itching feet, piles, etc., but also the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There is yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not help, and its action is so quick that those who try it are simply delighted with the result from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince every one of its merits, A. A. Clarke will sell a liberal-sized jar for 35c. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you can get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.—Adv.

Legal Stenographers Wanted. Orders have been received by local draft boards for five stenographers qualified for limited or special service to be inducted into the service by July 30. The stenographers are required to have had legal training. Any men in the local districts wishing to enlist under the call are asked to consult their draft boards immediately.

their own people by the use of machine years, after which they will be able to fully assume the duties of the graduate nurse. If the war continues three years or longer they will be sent overseas or to base hospitals in this country. If the war ends before their course of training is completed the need for nurses will still be so great that upon their graduation there will be many engagements awaiting them.

On every call to the women of this country for help in any of the war time activities, or situations developed by it, many have responded with the characteristic thoroughness of the sex when occasions requiring sacrifice of time or personal comfort have made their appeal. Some have responded with great alacrity than others, some have taken up their tasks with more intensity and than others, but still others have professed to be unable to do anything that is big enough or important enough to appear as worthwhile to be done.

Enrolling as a student nurse ought to meet such requirements. There is so much that is really necessary to be done in the nursing profession, under the present circumstances, that the call to the service ought to have a ready and willing response from those who desire to be in the service that is so greatly interested in doing something to help win the war.

"Village changed hands for the first time; Americans now in possession," was the message an American officer sent back from Saray after the final capture of the village from the famous Prussian Guards who had been ordered to hold it to the death. But the crown prince found that the Americans could out-fight and out-kill the best troops in the whole German army. That's why the Americans were left in possession.

"The raw troops" America has on the marine front are giving the crack troops of the German army too raw a deal to suit the crown prince.

WOMEN TRIUMPHANT.

The woman barrier is as thick today as the dyed red hair and blue brushed some talker on my neck, as well as any man could do. Her tiny finger held my nose, and I looked with queerly grace, and tilted up my head that grows around the borders of my face. Today I took a tiny finger from the woman's hand, and she was blooming as a bride, and full of business as an old maid. And I offered her in pay a bogus seven-day letter, and she was a stick of hay with most surprising strength and skill. I was to shock some sheaves of wheat, that all the nations were to be of, and I folded on weary feet, husky dame worked next to me. As counsel for James Pritchard Hose, in court I did my very best; a woman lawyer then arose, and knocked my logic galley west. While I was fighting with my wife I fell down stairs and broke a few; a woman saw my fall, and she said, "You are as good as new. The men have gone to whip the Han; their wives and daughters stay behind, to see that every duty is done to carry on the ceaseless grind. Today I thought I was a Hun, defeat a woman, peeler, come also and pinch me, or Commercial Travel. A woman jigger saw me kneel confidently on the prison stones, a woman call heard my splot, and put me down for fifteen bones.

SEND HIM A PAPER.

Said Private Jimmy Barkis as he chatted with his mates:
"I wonder what they're doing in the Old United States."
"Is it any better down there in the way he used to do?"
"Is Speaker Barkis' runners with that same old deadly throw?"
"While I had a paper from the home town, old or new."
"An' could read about the people in the places that I know."
"I can't get interested in the Daily
Mail or Times,
I want the home town paper with its
'best local' grind."
"I'm wiggling who has married since
the day I marched away, Who's been buried, since I left there. Oh, it seems so long ago!
For a copy of the paper I would give you six month's pay."
"There's so much I'd like to read of an' so much I want to know."

Said Private Jimmy Barkis, "It's a funny thing to me
But they seem to be
I don't ever want to see They write me cheerful letters as they send us things to wear.
They tell us, good tobacco, an'
we're mighty grateful too.
But they plumb forget a paper from the old town over there Is a thing we never part with till we read it through an' through."

HUGH JENNINGS, BOSS OF TIGERS, AND UMPIRE SILK O'LOUGHLIN ALWAYS RIGHT

HUGH JENNINGS "SILK" O'LOUGHLIN

It is difficult to win an argument with a major league manager. It's their business to win—even arguments. And so it is with umpires. There's Silk O'Loughlin, for example, who admits he never made a mistake on a decision. The following incident we have on the word of a ball player. It concerns Hugh Jennings, boss of the Tigers. Daus was pitching for Detroit and Spencer catching.

The enemy had runners on second and third and two were gone. Daus wound up and the batter crashed out a single, scoring both men.

When the Tigers returned to the bench Jennings spoke to Spencer: "You ought to have known better than signal for a fast ball," he said. "He hits that kind a mile."

"I don't call for a fast one, it was a curve," protested Spencer.

"It looked like a fast one to me," said the manager.

"Ask Daus about it," said Spencer. "He gets the sign."

"It was a curve all right, Hughie," remarked the shortstop.

"Well, it was too low anyway," said Jennings.

HOMER WAGNER ENLISTS

Homer Wagner, former major league baseball star, has enlisted with the home defense forces of Allegheny county and was sworn in as an officer of the law, with jurisdiction in his home town, Carnegie, near Pittsburgh.

WALLACE JOHNSON IS A SERGEANT IN ARMY

Wallace E. Johnson, champion tennis player, has laid aside his white flannels and his racket, to don Uncle Sam's khaki and shoulder a musket. Johnson, who is a sergeant, is stationed at Camp Crane, Allentown, Pa. While a student at the University of Pennsylvania, he won the Intercollegiate tennis championship and was named international fame as one of the best racket wielders that ever shot an ace over the net.

DIAMOND
NOTES

Twilight baseball is said to be a success in Minneapolis.

George Stallings is getting back in the papers these days.

Walter Reub of the Braves has decided to enlist in the navy.

Matty says his team has not been going any too well. That makes it of social.

According to New York scribes, Love has shot his bolt. Probably laughing at locksmiths again.

Hoboken, N. J., claims to be the first home of baseball, the game being played there in 1833.

The Vancouver club announces that it has sold outfielder Frank Wilson to the Chicago White Sox.

Bert Shotton has tumbled badly at bat. He has not lived up to the form he showed in the spring.

The opinion seems to prevail in Detroit the Cubs are going to beat the Giants to the National league flag.

The Indianapolis club announces that it has purchased Second Base man Press Cruthers from the Memphis club.

Dick Robertson of the New Orleans Pelicans quits the Southern season as the league's most sensational pitcher. He holds the record for consecutive victories.

The International League clubs are doing better than was expected financially. The league probably will go through the season without a break in the circuit.

Now that Lee Fohl has such a capable catcher as Chet Thomas to work at times, Steve O'Neill is getting a much deserved rest. O'Neill is one of the hardest working catchers in the game.

Unintentional injury was done Casey Stengel when he was stated that he ran out on the Pittsburgh club and had secured a job in a shipyard to avoid the draft. It seems Casey enlisted in the navy.

Deitch Reuther, formerly of the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds, now in service, was "enlisted" to pitch for Vancouver on June 18 and he beat the Aberdeen Black Cats, holding them to six hits and two runs.

Manager Lee Fohl put Doc Johnston at the top of his batting order when he reported from Milwaukee and Doc showed that he still had the same old cleverness that he showed for the Indians before they dumped him for a lot of experiments.

STAR BALL TEAM IS CALLED

Major League of Fame, including Grover Alexander, Now on Way to Fight in France.

What enthusiastic Camp Funston soldier fans declare was the best ball team in the army was called away from them when the Three Hundred and Forty-second artillery embarked on its way to France. The team included—and still includes—Alexander, Noyes and Lambeth, pitchers; Clarence Mitchell, first base; Charles (Chuck) Ward, shortstop—all major leaguers of fame and some of the cream of minor league talent in other positions. If the Three Hundred and Forty-second can shoot as good as it can play ball it ought to make the Blues run to cover.

FOR COLORED DRAFTEES

Farewell Reception Friday Evening
on West Side.

Relatives and friends of the colored draftees have perfected plans to give those leaving Saturday morning a farewell reception at the Rocky Baptist church, Rev. M. F. Sims, pastor,
Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The draftees' committee elected by the colored people to contribute to the welfare and comfort of the soldiers met at the Union Baptist church last evening to arrange a program for the above named date and place.
Because of the short notice given, it was decided that there would not be ample time to arrange for a parade.
The program will be on the order of those formerly given. There will be patriotic speaking to stimulate not only the draftees, but every American citizen to a stronger determination to fight for the principles of right and justice. Announcement in full of the program will be made to-morrow.

Connellsville Bargain Days

THURSDAY and FRIDAY, AUGUST 1 and 2

A Powerful Yearly Event

Connellsville's Merchants' Bargain Days is an annual event that grows with enthusiasm each succeeding year, and this being the eighth episode of its kind, will be superior to any ever held, owing to the fact that bargains in war times are few and far between.

With months of preparation, the progressive merchants of Connellsville have made provisions for Merchants' Bargain Days of 1918 by offering to the public bigger and better bargains at such unheard of prices as will be found listed on this page. In these war times when all commodities are soaring in price the merchants are holding a two-day Bargain Festival of underselling, drastic reduction and price concessions that will go a great way to reduce the high cost of living in these high priced times.

Every farmer, housewife, miner, coke-worker, mill-worker, railroad man, in fact every man, woman, and child should attend this great money-saving event.

There can be found advertised on the page below Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Groceries, Drugs, Furniture, Household Articles and Furnishings, Candies, Hardware, Tobacco, Meats, and all commodities that are needed and will be reduced in price for these two days.

In addition to the advertisements found listed below, other general advertisements have been prepared by nearly every merchant and will be found on other pages of this paper. We ask you to read every one of these ads and check all wanted and interesting items and come prepared for two rousing shopping days.

The 16 reasons why Connellsville's Bargain Days are a great success—Quality, Seasonableness, Economy, Quantity, Durability, Necessity, Rarity, Freshness, Values, Prices, Comparisons, Delivery, Shipment, Packing, Duration and Time.

FOR FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

John Devitt Recommends Vinol to Create Strength and Vitality.

Marion, N. J.—"I am 69 years of age and after a severe sickness, was in a weak, run-down condition. Vinol has built me up and made me strong, so now I feel real well again, and I can recommend it to others for such conditions."—John M. Devitt.

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mr. Devitt's case, is because it contains beef and cod liver poisons, iron and manganese phosphates and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weakened, run-down system, make rich, red blood and create strength. It is perfectly wonderful what it does for old people.

Insists That Frail, Nervous Women Can Speedily Become Strong and Vigorous

A Vigorous Healthy Body, Sparkling Eyes and Health-Colored Cheeks Come in Two Weeks, Says Discoverer of Bio-feron.

World's Greatest Health Builder Costs Nothing Unless It Gives to Women the Buoyant Health They Long for.

It is safe to say that right here in this big city are tens of thousands of weak, nervous, run-down, depressed women who in two weeks' time could make themselves so healthy, so attractive and so keen-minded that they would compel the admiration of all their friends.

The vital health building elements that these depressed women lack are all plentifully supplied in Bio-feron. If you are ambitious, crave success in life, want to have a healthy, vigorous body, clear skin and eyes that show no signs of wear, make up your mind to get a package of Bio-feron right away.

It costs but little and you can get an original package at any drugstore anywhere. Take two tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—seven a day for seven days—then one after meals till all are gone. Then if you don't feel twice as good, look twice as attractive and feel twice as strong as before you started, your money is waiting for you. It belongs to you for the discovery of Bio-feron doesn't want one penny of it unless it fulfills all claims.

Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feron, it is printed on every package. Here it is: Lactin, Calcium glycerophosphate, Iron phosphate, Manganese phosphate, Ext. Nerv. Gland. Pure, Genuine, Phenolphthalein, Osmium, Capsicum, Kolo.

Fifteen New August Records

Dear Music Lover:—

It is the easiest thing in the world for the Victrola owner to keep in closest touch with all that's new and clever in music. Take for example the new August records.

"Indianola," a striking headliner, throbs with the deep-voiced tom toms and drones with the war-song cadences of the dancing red skins.

As Billy Murray sings, we see the vivid war-painted figures sway about the leaping flames and hear the promise of the departing brave to "fight for the Yank" and to "tomahawk Ol' Kaiser Bill." A rattling good reverse, "When I Send You a Picture of Berlin"—No. 18474—85c.

Smith's Orchestra is back again with another dance hit—two peppy, sprightly fox trots that would make a cigar Indian cut capers.—No. 18473—85c.

A second Billy Murray hit is a lively lilt about an Irish woman's man, "They're All Out of Step But Jim." Sailor Reilly furnishes the reverse—No. 18466—85c.

Let us play for you some of these excellent "out-of-door" records—at any time.

Yours very truly,

Carolyn of the Corners

RUTH BELMORE ENDICOTT

Carolyn May went soberly back to her chair. She did not eat much more. Somewhere there seemed to be a big lump in her throat past which she could not force the food. As the dark fell, the spirit of loneliness gripped her and the tears pooled behind her eyelids, ready to pour over her cheeks at the least "jerk". Yet she was not usually a "cry-baby" girl.

"Ammy Rose was watching her, more closely than Carolyn May supposed. After her third cup of tea she arose and began quietly clearing the table. The newscaster was nodding in her place, her blue eyes closed with sleep and unconsciousness.

"It is time for you to go to bed, Carolyn May," said Ammy Rose firmly. "I will show you the room. Hannah Stagg had her own when she was a girl."

"Thank you, Ammy Rose," said the little girl humbly.

She picked up the bag and followed the elderly old woman into the back hall and up the stairway into the attic. Carolyn May saw that at the foot of the stairs was a door leading out upon the porch where Prince was now moving about, usually at the end of his leash. She would have liked to say "good night" to Prince, but it seemed better not to mention this feeling to Ammy Rose.

The fading beam of sunset in the sky gave the little girl plenty of light to understand by. She thought the room very beautiful, too.

"Do you need any help, dear?" asked Mrs. Kennedy, standing in her solitary manner in the doorway. It was Ammy Rose and the little girl could not see her face.

"Oh, no, ma'am," said Carolyn May faintly.

"Very well," said Ammy Rose and turned away. Carolyn May stood in the middle of the room and looked to her descending footsteps. Ammy Rose had not said "Good night" and she was a bit puzzled.

Like a surprised cat, when a secret is told, the little girl went about looking at the doorway which was to her the entrance to the room where she had been told to go.

mother's. That fact helped greatly. Then she looked at the high, pretty bed. "How ever can I get into it?" sighed Carolyn May.

She had to stand upon her tiptoes to see into the little bedroom slippers to pull back the quilt and the blanket and see underneath it. The bed was just a great big bag of feathers!

"Just like a big, big pillow," thought the little girl. "And if I do get into it I'm liable to sink down and down and down till I'm buried, and won't ever be able to get up in the morning."

The window was open and the wind to it and looked out. A breath of bonny-belle blew in. Then, below, on the porch, she heard the merry movements of Prince. And he whined.

"Oh, poor Prince! He doesn't know what's become of me," thought Carolyn May.

Downstairs, in the great kitchen, Ammy Rose was stepping back and forth, from table to sink, from sink to dresser, from dresser to pantry. As the daylight faded she lit the lamp which swung from the ceiling and gave light to all the room.

A would have been impossible for the wisest person to guess what were the thoughts in Ammy Rose's mind.

A glad little yelp from the dog tied to the rail of the porch sounded suddenly. Even Ammy Rose could not mistake that cry of welcome and she knew very little about dogs—to their "yelps," at least. She had heard no other suspicious sound, but now she crossed the room with firm tread and opened the porch door. Yes, a little white figure was down there hugging the whining mongrel.

Carolyn May's tearful face was turned from Prince's rough neck.

"Oh, Ammy Rose! Oh, Ammy Rose!" she sobbed. "I just had to say good night to somebody. Edna's mother came and heard our prayers and tucked me into my bed after my papa and mamma went away. So it didn't seem so bad."

"But tonight—why! tonight there isn't anybody cares whether I go to bed or not! But Prince! Prince, he knows just how—how empty I feel!"

"You would better come in now and wash your face and hands again before going to bed. That dog has been hugging them with his tongue."

Sobbing, the little girl obeyed. Then she would have gone back up the stairs without a word had not Ammy Rose spoken.

"Come here, Carolyn May," she said quite as sternly as before.

The little girl approached her. The old lady sat in one of the straightest of the straight-backed chairs, her hands in her comfortable lap. The two blue eyes were turned to her companion's face faintly.

"If you wish to say your prayers here, before going upstairs, you may, Carolyn May," she said.

"Oh, may I?" gasped the little girl.

She dropped her hands into Ammy Rose's lap. Somehow they found it larger, comforting hands and could take them to the little girl's hand to her knees as she knelt and said:

If the simple "Now I lay me" was familiar to Ammy Rose's ear from long ago she gave no sign. When the simple "Now I lay me" was familiar to Ammy Rose's ear from long ago she gave no sign. When the simple "Now I lay me" was familiar to Ammy Rose's ear from long ago she gave no sign.

CHAPTER III.

"Well—she'll be a nuisance," Mr. Joseph Stagg, going down to his store, past the home and carpenter shop of Jedidiah Parlow, at which he did not even look, finally came to his destination in a very brown study. He disturbed had been by the arrival of his little niece that he forgot to question and cross-question young Chetwood Gormley regarding the possible customers that had been in the store during his absence.

"And I tell you what I think, methinks," Chet said, with his mouth full of supper, that evening. "I think her coming's going to bring about changes. Yes, ma'am!"

Mrs. Gormley was a faded little woman—a widow—who went out sewing for better-to-do people in Shurtleff Cove. She naturally thought her boy Chetwood a great deal smarter than other people thought him.

"You know, mother," he said, on this evening of the arrival of Carolyn May,

May, "I never have seen any great changes in this world for Mr. Joseph Stagg."

"But he pays you, Chet," his mother said anxiously.

"Yes, I know. Don't be afraid I'll leave him till I see something better," he reassured her. "But I might be clerkin' for him till the cows come home and never see more'n six or eight dollars a week. But now it's apt to be different."

"How different, Chet?" she asked, puzzled.

"You know Mr. Stagg's as hard as nails—as hard as the goods he sells," declared the gawky boy. "Mind you, he don't do nothin' mean. That ain't his way. But he don't seem to have a note of interest in anything but his shop. Now, it seems to me, this little niece is bound to wake him up. He calls her 'Hannah's Carolyn'."

"Hannah Stagg was his only sister," said Mrs. Gormley softly. "I remember her."

"And she's just died, or something, and left this little girl," Chet continued. "Mr. Stagg's bound to think of something now besides business. And maybe he'll need me more. And I'll get a chance to show him I'm worth something to him. So, by and by, he'll put me forward in the business," said the boy, his homely face glowing.

"Who knows? Maybe it'll be Stagg & Gormley over the door one of these days. Stranger things have happened."
